

Maple WEEKLY

Week 4 – Monday 4th May to Friday 8th May

Mrs Leonard's update:

Hello Maple Class! I hope that you have all had a lovely week. It was really nice to chat with some of you on Zoom and see what you have been getting up to. I will send out details for future Zoom chats very soon. Shall we just stick to one-to-one calls? Or would you like to try a whole Maple Class call? Perhaps we could start off with House group calls? Let me know what you think! Remember to keep being kind and caring to those around you. I really hope that you enjoy next week's topic—it was suggested by quite a few of you! I can't wait to see what you get up to, so please email me at: ileonard@chesterton.oxon.sch.uk.

Reading Awards!

Well done to Max for doing lots of reading and achieving his 175 award this week. How many of you are close to your next award?

Feeling Artly!

There have been so many arty bits and pieces being done this week. All of the VE Day posters, paper chains, bunting and pictures look fantastic! I hope that you all have a lovely time celebrating with lots of red, white and blue colours!

Certificate Winners!

Congratulations to Maya and Georgina for earning a well done certificate this week! I wonder who will earn themselves a certificate next week?

Joke Time!

Q. What do kittens like to eat?

A. Mice cream.

Staying Active!

Lots of us have been working on your bike riding skills this week – including Mrs Leonard! Cycling is a great way to exercise, so keep up the good work and remember to wear your helmets to keep yourselves safe!

On the menu tonight...

Cheese and potato dumplings made by Jude! He followed one of the wartime recipes and gave these dumplings a big thumbs up! Jude has also been helping his parents to prepare some new recipes and he has been trying lots of new foods! Well done Jude!

Family Fondness!

Sophie B and her sister, Connie have been having a great time together! Here they are on an adventure walk in the woods!

Medals!

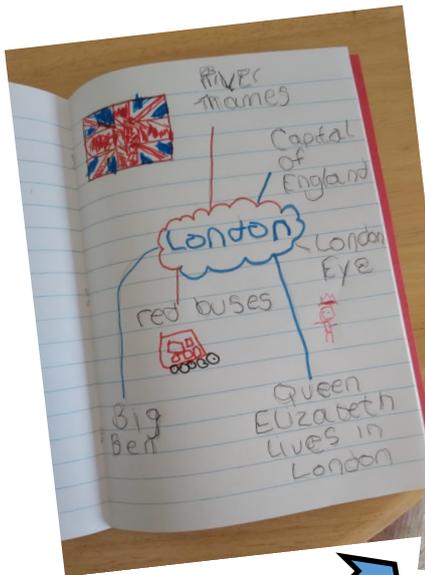

I have seen some fantastic VE Day medals that you have made this week. Well done for using so many colours and thinking really carefully about the designs. Here are some photos of Cariad's real medals—how special! And Sophie B's medals made out of salt dough.

What else have Maple been up to?

Well done to everybody that has been practising the days of the week. Here are some picture cards that Sebastian made. Are the days of the week in the right order?

London!

Lots of you have been learning all about the capital city of England. Here is Oliver's brainstorm of all the things he knows about London, and Sienna's London playset with lots of special landmarks from the city.

I have been so impressed by all of the clocks that you have made as part of your Maths work this week. Here is one of the clocks that Sienna drew outdoors. I hope that you are all ready to start telling the time next week!
