

Maple WEEKLY

Week 5 – Monday 11th May to Friday 15th May 2020

Mrs Leonard's update: Hello Maple Class! Firstly, thank you so much to everyone who showed up to the Maple Class Zoom call on Thursday. It was so lovely to see you all and I loved the animal costumes and face paints! You made such a great effort! It was a bit difficult to get around to speaking to you all though, so I think I will do some house group chats next week. Keep a look out for more details of this. I am so pleased that you all enjoyed the 'Animals' topic this week. I have seen some fantastic learning going on. I am so proud of you and your families for all of your home learning efforts. Well done! I love putting your photos in the weekly newsletters, so please email them to me (preferably by Friday morning) at: ileonard@chesterton.oxon.sch.uk.

Reading Awards!

Well done to these children for achieving the following awards this week:

Mila and Lily –150 days
Eva—200 days

Feeling Arty!

There have been so many arty and crafty projects going on this week! I know that Mrs Thorne will be very impressed with all of your lovely creations.

Certificate Winners!

Congratulations to Sophie T and Sebastian for earning a Well Done certificate this week! I wonder who will earn themselves a certificate next week?

Joke Time!

Q. What kind of big cat is no fun to play games with?

A. A cheetah!

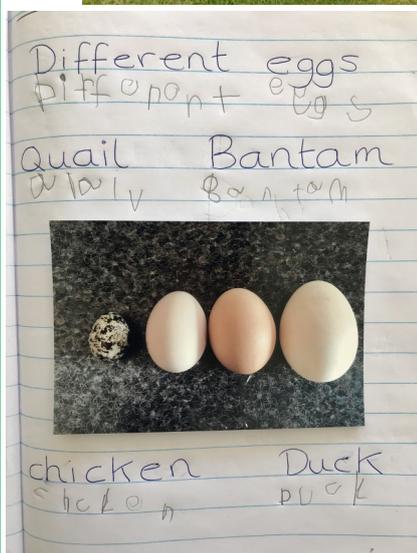

Staying Active!

Scooting is another great way to stay active. Here is Aisha and her brother Emin on their scooters. These two also set up their own outdoor challenge with running, throwing and kicking a ball. What a great idea!

On the menu tonight...

Eggs! As part of his home learning, Max did an investigation into the different types of eggs that he could find. As an extra challenge for you all, I would like you to find out which animal lays the biggest eggs. You could also link this to your Maths work from this week and find out how much time it would take to cook one of those giant eggs.!

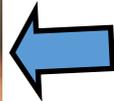

Family Fondness!

Here is Mila and her big sister Lily ready to release their lovely butterflies out in the garden.

Tick, tock, tick, tock! I am so impressed with how many of you have been working on time this week! Here are Sophie T, Sienna, Edie and Mila using their clocks to practise telling the time.

Here's Lily looking after a poorly toy cat in her veterinary centre. It looks like she is putting a bandage on a very sore paw. You make an excellent vet!

Aisha found lots of toy animals to help her write the animal alphabet. How many names did you think of?

What else have Maple been up to?

Here is Edie with her cuddly giraffe 'Kenzo' and a special certificate to show that she has adopted a family of giraffes in Niger. How amazing!

Oliver has been out in the garden looking for bugs! Here he is with a very wriggly worm that he found.

Bethany R has been getting creative this week. She made some lovely butterflies and here she is with a bird box that she has painted in lots of bright colours. I hope that some birds nest in there soon!
