

Alex and Isla's Wild West movie script

Billy the Kid was robbing a bank when all of a sudden Jesse James walked in and said:

JJ - "What are you doing here Billy?"

BK - "I was gonna ask you the same question Jesse!"

JJ - "I'm here to rob this bank today kiddo. Now scram before I give you a lesson in shooting."

BK- "I'd like to see you try Jesse. Your insults won't do you any good. I'm the fastest gunslinger in the West. I'll drop you before you get a chance to pull the trigger!"

JJ - "Keep talking kid. That mouth is always getting you into trouble. One day you're gonna talk yourself into an early grave."

BK - "You're starting to bore me and the good people in this bank. Why don't we get robbing and sort out who gets the loot later?"

JJ - "Best idea you've had all day kid."

Jesse James turns to the bank teller and says:

JJ - "You heard the kid, this is a robbery hand over all your cash, and make it snappy!"

BK - "Don't be a hero, we're watching you and you can bet your bottom dollar we're quicker than you!"

They grab the bag of money, jump on their horse and ride away. Later

BK - "So Jesse how we gonna handle this? With a good ole fashioned shoot out? Last man standing gets the loot?"

JJ - "Take it easy kid, there's plenty of cash for both of us. Let's just split it 50/50?"

BK - "Sounds fair to me."

JJ - "Nice doing business with you. How bout you join my gang we're always looking for some new recruits?"

BK - "Nah that's OK I've got my own gang. It's a hell of a lot better than yours. See ya old man..."

He rides off into the sunset.....
